A GREAT DAY.—Who says there is no justice in New Orleans? Festerday W. H. Wilder, formerly a representative to the State Legislature from titles, city, res, alderman, and ex-country, land agest, was tried and couvicted of fraud on the pension office—a conviction that will consign him to ten years imprisonment, if they catch him; for after the verdist he succeeded in John Melvin, an Irishbana, aged about fifty, grey-headed and infirm, was convicted of thing.
